The Lutheran Church and Science.

Lutherans teach that Christianity and true Science do not disagree; that, where the utterances of present-day scientists differ from the revelation of Divine truth, the Bible is always right and human systems are wrong; and that the theory of evolution, which largely determines the views held by many scientists today, is not true science, but mere guesswork, was invented by infidels, is being used for the purpose of undermining the trustworthiness of the Bible, tends to destroy spiritual life and to corrupt the morals of humanity, is flatly contradictory of Divine truth, and must therefore be rejected.

1 Timothy 6, 20: Oh Timothy, keep that which is committed to thy trust, avoiding profane and vain babblings and oppositions of science falsely so called.

With his usual enterprise, Mr Christie is arranging to instal his own electric refrigerating plant at his Cafe on Main street. This is to be completed in time for the coming of warm weather, and will include the electric lighting of the entire premises from the plant.

Mr Christie finds it necessary to take this step, as his refrigerating system in former summers, which requires a 24-hour service, had not proven satisfactory. The installing will be done by an Edmonton firm.

Sporting Notes.

The big hockey game Sunday afternoon last was between two local teams—the Seniors and Juniors. The former won by the score of 5 goals to 4. As the score was even, 4 to 4, at the end of full time, ten minutes' overtime play was required to break the tie. A return match will be played on local ice next Sunday.

The West and Its Natural Resources

The question of the transfer of the public lands and natural resources in the West by the Dominion to the three prairie provinces is once again very much to the fore. River since the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan were formed, in fact, to some extent ever since Manitoba was created a province, there has been a demand on the part of the Western Provinces that they should be placed in a position of equality with the older provinces in the matter of ownership and control of the public domain.

Fortunately, the question has now passed out of the realm of partisan controversy, because all political parties, Liberal, Conservative, Progressive, at Ottawa as well as in the Prairie Capitals, are agreed that the transfer should be made. Not only so, but the Governments of the Eastern Provinces have waived the objections so long urged by them. It is now only a question of reaching terms acceptable to the West on the one hand, and the rest of the Dominion on the other hand.

Negotiations are now under way with all three prairie provinces. In the case of Manitoba agreement has been reached with the Dominion to the extent that a Commission is now engaged in studying the whole question of terms. Negotiations with Alberta reached the point of an agreement being actually signed between the two Governments, but later, Ottawa proposed to insert a provision relative to the school lands which was unacceptable to Alberta, and the agreement was not proceeded with. Ottawa has since modified its position and an early settlement of outstanding differences seems likely.

Saskatchewan's position is somewhat different from that of the other provinces. Whereas Alberta is rich in coal, oil, and other resources apart from lands, and recent discoveries have revealed a Flin Flon and a Sheritt-Gordon in Manitoba, Saskatchewan's mineral wealth is yet to be proven. Furthermore, Saskatchewan's chief wealth has been found in its agricultural lands, and to a large extent these have already been disposed of by the Dominion, with the result that there is not as great wealth to be handed over by the Dominion to Saskatchewan as exists in the case of the other two provinces. Saskatchewan, therefore, has a stronger claim for compensation for lands alienated under Dominion administration for the general benefit of all Canada. However, negotiations are in progress.

The sooner all these questions are finally settled and the Western Provinces placed in control of their lands and resources the better. There cannot be complete unity among the provinces, nor full development of a national spirit and aims, so long as Western Canada feels it is forced into a position of inferiority to the Eastern Provinces. The interests of the Dominion demand the removal of any cause for such feeling. Further, whatever arguments may have been convincing in 1906 for retention of the public domain by the Dominion on the ground that they could administer them better than could the newly created provinces with all the manifold tasks before them, and with but small populations and financial resources, those arguments are removed now that there are over two million people in the three prairie provinces with fully developed governmental institutions and strong financial credit.

Constitutional issues, it is true, are involved in any consideration of the matter. The West does not, and cannot, accept the interpretation placed upon certain enactments by the Dominion and the Eastern provinces, notwithstanding that Eastern opinion is greatly modified to what it was a few years ago. It would, however, be a mistake for the negotiating parties to take up positions based upon constitutional grounds. To do so would mean long and expensive litigation right through to the Privy Council, in England. Then, when the legal and constitutional issues were finally settled, an army of expert accountants would have to be engaged for years to delve into all the many transactions involving lands and resources since the passage of the first Dominion Lands Act, in 1872.

The sane, sensible, business-like thing to do now is for the representatives of the Dominion and the Provinces to gather around a table and reach an amicable agreement, fair, reasonable and acceptable to all. The sooner this big issue is settled the better for Canadian national unity, strength, and the quicker will the resources themselves be developed for use of the people and add to the growth, development and wealth of all Canada. So long as they remain in the present unsettled state neither Dominion, nor Provincial Governments can proceed with proper and energetic developmental policies, and, as a result, progress is retarded.

Simple Precautions Against FLU

Sore Throat

The Danger Signal

Health Authorities Point Out The Necessity Of Treating The Simple Cold At Its Beginning

Nearly every case of "Flu" starts with a simple cold. At first the throat is sore—often just a little hoarse—soon the infection goes lower—then the chest is affected. A safe plan is to gargle the throat three times daily with "Nerviline"—this will keep the throat free from germs. If there is any sign of tightness in the chest, rub on Nerviline—very drop will penetrate deeply—congestion will be relieved—the cold will break up quickly. Many a dangerous case of "Flu" can be avoided by this simple home treatment.

Of course it is always wise to take some relaxing medicine, and for this purpose immediate results will be secured from Dr. Hamilton's Pills—they purge the system of impurities and carry off a lot of disease—breeding wastes.

This combination treatment of Nerviline and Dr. Hamilton's Pills is very effective for Grippe, Influenza, Bad Colds, etc., and can be relied upon to give very satisfactory results.

The Airplane Ambulance

Actual Demonstration To Be Given In Paris Next May

The airplane which has already proved its worth as a passenger, mail, and express carrier, is now to become an ambulance.

An international congress will assemble in Paris next May to consider air transportation of sick and injured in both military and civil life, the Commerce Department has been advised by its representatives there.

Actual demonstration of the airplane ambulance will be given at Le Bourget Field, where a pseudopatient will be bundled aboard, carried to some provincial village and returned.

NERVOUS INDIGESTION AS A RESULT OF FLU

A Severe Sufferer Overcame This Trouble By Taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

No amount of recent years has proved so treacherous as the Flu. The disease itself is bad enough, but the after effects is where the real danger lies. The Flu leaves behind a weakened body, impoverished blood, shattered nerves and an impaired digestive system. Too much stress cannot be laid on the importance of rebuilding the blood and purging the system during convalescence. Until the blood is built up there can be no recovery of health and strength. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, Start a treatment of them today and see how soon you show signs of robust health again.

Among the many victims of the recent Flu epidemic of 1919 was Mrs. Irving Maxwell, of Sarnett, Ont. Read what this lady has to say concerning what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for her: "After an attack of the Flu I was left in an extremely weak state. My blood was impoverished; I was ed with indigestion and stomach trouble; my nerves were shattered and nothing my doctor gave me seemed to help me in the least. I continually grew weaker and weaker till finally I lost all control of my nervous system. My mother, who had used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills with good results for anaemia, induced me to give them a trial. I did so, and after using three boxes I noticed some improvement. I persevered in the treatment and by the time I had used seven boxes I was fully restored to health again, and although I am now over six children I am now able to do all my work around the house and feel as well as ever I did in my life before. What these Pills have done for me they will surely do for others."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a tonic, not a stimulant. They build up the blood and are a specific for such troubles as indigestion, rheumatism, women's ailments and the general worn-out feeling that affects so many people. They are sold by all medicine dealers and by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Non-Inflammable Paper

German Gives Successful Demonstration Of His Fireproof Invention

A paper that does not burn has been discovered. The German inventor, Mr. Franz Franck, gave a demonstration recently. He took a sheet of ordinary newspaper, crumpled it into a ball, and wrapped this highly combustible object in a sheet of his fireproof paper. Thus protected, he held it for a few minutes in the flame of a laboratory blast lamp hot enough to melt a glass window-pane. Not only did the fireproof wrapping survive, but the ordinary paper inside was not even scorched.

Resolution Dealing With Canadian Symbol Will Be Considered

The adoption of a Canadian flag will come before parliament during the present session through a resolution placed on the order paper by C. R. McIntosh, Liberal member for North Battleford.

The resolution of Mr. McIntosh calls for the appointment of a special committee "for the purpose of considering the advisability of adopting a Canadian flag representing Canada as a whole which shall form part of the British flag as the symbol of the dominion as an equality partner in the commonwealth of British nations."

Canada's Aggregate Trade Shows Remarkable Increase In the Last Fourteen Years

Each recurring year comes with a call for personal and national stock-taking. The first concerns the individual personality, the second the concern of every patriotic citizen. So it is not amiss to consider the position of Canada on her material side and as occupying a place in the world economy out of all proportion to the nation her population bears to that of the principal countries that are her competitors in the open markets of the world. At the end of 1927 the Dominion ranked fifth in the volume of her imports, exports and general trade, yielding rank in these respects only to the United Kingdom, United States, Germany and France, all nations of greatly larger population. Following Canada, in the order of their trade aggregates, come British India, Japan, Italy, Argentina and the Netherlands.

That Canada should occupy so honorable a position in the trading roster of the world is a matter of legitimate pride, heightened by the rapidity of the Canadian expansion. In 1913, the year before the war, Canada ranked only eighth in the volume of her import trade, tenth in the volume of her exports, and ninth in aggregate trade. The Dominion's rise to fifth place in aggregate value thus lies entirely within the war and post-war periods and is both remarkable and, probably, unparalleled in trade history. Moreover, it is even more surprising when it is kept in mind that Canada still numbers less than 10,000,000 people, and that her increase in population has been relatively slow. Because of this the Dominion takes a much higher place when the point of view is restricted to per capita trade.

In the last complete calendar year before the outbreak of war, Canada ranked seventh in that regard among the countries of the world in export trade, but in 1927 had reached second place, out-ranked by New Zealand alone. In import trade Canada ranked seventh per capita in 1913, rising in 1927 to fifth. In aggregate trade per capita Canada moved from sixth place to second in the same period, being excelled by the much smaller Dominion, New Zealand. Taking the visible trade balance, Canada held third place in 1927, following the United States and British India, but on a per capita basis, the Dominion led the world.

Canada's fiscal year ends March 31, and for the last complete year to that date in 1928 her aggregate trade was returned at $2,325,899,934. This represents an increase in fourteen fourteen years of $4,240,635,555, or 114 per cent. Import trade has increased from $682,022,392 to $1,687,117,890 by $993,085,538, or 57 per cent. Export trade has increased from $993,232,057 to $1,238,782,004 by $245,549,947, or 215 per cent. The value of Canadian trade continues to increase, further increments being recorded in the present year. Comparing the aggregate for the 12 months ended July last with the previous corresponding twelve months, an increase is shown of over 5 per cent, both imports and exports being appreciably greater.

Believes Greenland Route Most Logical

Only Solution To Problem Of Trans-Atlantic Airplane Travel Says Michigan Professor

Prof. W. B. Hobbs, of the University of Michigan, who is laying tentative plans for a fourth expedition into Greenland, believes that the only satisfactory solution to the problem of trans-Atlantic airplane travel lies in the Greenland-Iceland route.

"Since safety is the primary factor in mapping out a regular air route the northern route across Greenland and Iceland is the only one which offers a solution to the problem," Prof. Hobbs says.

"Weather conditions and winds in the far north are much more favorable than those encountered along the traditional ship lanes to Europe and the water jumps much shorter and less perilous."

Canada's Copper Production

Government Report Indicates Large Increase In This Industry

Within five years Canada will produce approximately 250,000 tons of metallic copper annually, or roughly ten times the present consumption of the Dominion's industries utilizing this metal, according to present indications and calculations of experts of the Mines Branch of the Department of the Interior, upon a basis of minimum production of newly-developed mines in the Dominion.

Under existing conditions the bulk of the copper thus produced would be refined in the United States and brought back to Canada. This would be the case, at least, until the establishment of a smelter at some suitable point which could refine the production of Canada's eastern mines and the re-opening of the huge smelter at Trail, B.C., which has been closed since the cutting off of its supply of copper ore from the Grand Consolidated holdings at Copper Mountain, now shipping to Tacoma, Wash., for smelting purposes.

Care Of Cut Flowers

Flowers must be taken care of by the purchaser. When you open a box of cut flowers from the florist's the stems have air in them. So it is not enough that you put the flowers immediately into a vase of water. Cut off about half an inch at the end of the stems and immerse the stems in warm water till the flowers are up to their necks in the liquid. Then the water passages will soon be filled and the flowers are ready for the vases.

Forming New Dominion

Territories in East Africa Uniting Under British Flag

A "black dominion" of 10,000,000 persons governed by a scattered handful of white men under the British flag is slowly taking shape in East Africa.

The project includes the vastly rich Tanganyika area. Tanganyika covers 375,000 square miles and has been held by Britain under a mandate since the war. Uganda and Kenya are the other proposed component parts of the new dominion of the British Empire.

A hint of the proposals is found in the report of a commission investigating conditions in East Africa under the chairmanship of Sir Edward Hilton Young. The commission recommended further improvement in administration and appointment of a high commissioner for the three territories. This might eventually lead to creation of the post of governor-general, according to certain quarters and the first step towards creation of a dominion.

Kenya is the largest white colony, numbering 12,500. The 42 official there rule some 2,736,000 natives. They are slowly developing a great trade in cotton, hides, ivory and timber with Britain and the United States.

Nairobi, capital of Kenya, is a little city planted in the midst of the jungle.

Tanganyika has a population of almost 4,000,000. Uganda which has been under British rule since 1894, has 3,200,000. In each territory the natives are slowly being educated.

Some observers are of the opinion that the British plan is ultimately to link up these territories with Northern and Southern Rhodesia, which are to the south and under British rule. Then, it is pointed out, the legislative link might be extended to the even larger territories of the Union of South Africa.

Auto Blazes Northern Trail

The second automobile to make its difficult over rough trails and tote roads from Saskatoon, Sask., to The Pas, arrived there recently. The motorists were E. E. Smith and S. Johnson, of Saskatoon. Until they bounced into The Pas no motor car had made the trip since John Brennan drove over logs and muskegs in 1924.

An interesting "story of the first air mail," a story that must be little known, was sent to the Manitoba Free Press from the Winnipeg vice-consulate of the Netherlands. The story explains how:

"The first letter known to have been sent by international air mail was received by Willem I. King of the Netherlands, more than 92 years ago. It happened on Nov. 7, 1836. On that day, Robert Holland, a British capitalist, accompanied by Monck Mason and Charles Green, embarked in a balloon for a trip across the North Sea channel. The King's councillor-general at London, Mr. J. W. May, handed the balloonists a letter addressed to the King of the Netherlands. The balloon landed at Weilburg, Germany, where the letter was mailed to The Hague. King Willem was so delighted with the novelty of the fact that he ordered the letter to be filed with the annotation 'to be carefully saved.'"

Of course this disclosure of mail delivery made by balloon nearly a hundred years ago is a sharp contrast illustrating the advances in the uses now made of the air. Indeed, where a start even had not been made, an advance can hardly be recorded. Controlled aerial locomotion is so new that it did not exist when balloons were tossed about at the mercy of each whiff of wind. When the King of the Netherlands thought wonders had ceased when his letter descended with the balloon which transported it, nothing was known of air craft and air service as we have come to know them. Nothing of this was known at the beginning of last century, and little more at the beginning of this one. Knowledge of transport's newest dimension manifested itself only in the last quarter-century, and the greatest strides in putting it to the most astounding practical uses have been taken in the last ten years or so.

As the vice-consul of the Netherlands remarks, "Today the sending of mail from Holland to the Dutch East Indies, and return, a distance each way of about 10,000 miles, is a common occurrence." And he asks: "What would King Willem have said if he had received a letter from Batavia or Sourabaya, written ten days previously, and reading: 'We hereby confirm our telephone conversation held this morning, etc.'? Yet such letters are actually being received in Holland today."

Whatever the King of the Netherlands would have said at the thought of such rapid communication, he couldn't, a hundred years ago, have regarded it as much more unlikely and wholly impossible than did most of this generation at the beginning of this century. And it is altogether permissible to presume that the King of the Netherlands referred to would be little more perplexed at the advances made in the air since his time, than we would be with the further advances that will be made in the next fifty or a hundred years.

Idea Was Not a Success

The impatience of two pairs of reindeer into Switzerland last spring has not proved successful. Of the four animals which arrived in Chateau d'Oex only two now remain. During the exceptionally hot summer both the males died, as did two young ones, born in June. This will be a disappointment to the winter sports enthusiasts, who were looking forward to a new form of skiing, in which the reindeer was to have taken the place of the horse as motive power.

Don't cut corns with an old razor blade. Infection, followed often by death may result from paring corns with an infected razor. Quick, safe relief comes from using PUTNAM'S CORN EXTRACTOR. KEEP YOUR BABY HAPPY AND WELL

Every mother wishes her child or children to be well and happy; to be bright-eyed, rosy-cheeked boys and girls. No mother, though, can expect her children to escape all the ills of babyhood and childhood, but she can do much to help them fight the battle for health.

All prudent mothers constantly keep at hand the means of aiding their little ones when sickness comes suddenly—as it generally does in the case of children. In every home where there are infants and young children Baby's Own Tablets should be found. Read what Mrs. Mary Hill, Centre Dumfries, Ont., says concerning these Tablets: "I am the mother of six children and would not be without Baby's Own Tablets. They are a wonderful medicine for little ones."

Baby's Own Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulates the bowels and sweetens the stomach and thus break up colds and simple fever, banish constipation and indigestion and allay the irritation accompanying the cutting of teeth. They are absolutely safe and are pleasant to take. The Tablets are sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Whatever He Thought
This isn't a new one, but it is worth re-telling. A little girl ran into her house one afternoon and said to her maiden aunt, a Christian Scientist: "Auntie, you know that old man on the corner who was ill?"
"You mean he thought he was ill?" corrected the aunt.
"Well, now he thinks he's dead," said the little girl.

GRIDDLE CAKES

Who doesn't like griddle cakes? From father to the youngest member of the family, every one clamors for more—when they are tasty! Here is a tested recipe:

- 1 cupful Borden's St. Charles Milk.
- 1 cupful water.
- 2 tablespoons melted butter.
- 1 egg, well beaten.
- 3 cupfuls white flour.
- 1 teaspoonful salt.
- 4 teaspoonsful baking powder.
- 2 tablespoons sugar.

Combine the milk and water, add the shortening, sugar, and the egg, and beat in the dry ingredients which have been sifted together. Beat thoroughly and fry as usual on a slightly oiled griddle, or on an un-oiled aluminum or soapstone griddle. If very thin cakes are desired, add two more tablespoonsful of St. Charles milk and water. For further interesting recipes write for the Borden Cook Books, addressing The Borden Co., Ltd., Dept. WL, 140 St. Paul St., Montreal.

PARENTS HAPPY WHEN BABY SLEEPS SOUNDLY

Here's a way to soothe crying, wakeful babies to sleep quickly and easily. It's the way doctors endorse, and millions of mothers have proved it safe and harmless. A few drops of purely vegetable, pleasant-tasting Fletcher's Castoria, has the most fretful, restless baby or child asleep in a few minutes! And for colic, constipation, colds and upset spells, there's nothing like Castoria. The Chas. H. Fletcher signature is the mark of genuine Castoria. Avoid imitations and be safe.

Persistent Asthma. A most distressing characteristic of this debilitating disease, is the persistence with which recurring attacks come to sap away strength and leave the sufferer in a state of almost continual exhaustion. No wise precaution can be taken than that of keeping at hand a supply of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy, famous as the most potent remedy for eradicating the disease from the tender air passages.

Canada Early Prize Winner

That Canada early took foremost place in fish culture is indicated by the fact that in 1883 at the Great International Fisheries Exhibition in London, she carried off the highest award, namely, the gold medal and diploma for the best and most complete fish-breeding establishment in the Exhibition.

Children suffering from worms soon show the symptoms, and any mother can detect the presence of these parasites by the writhings and frettings of the child. Truth expelled and the system cleared of them, the child cannot regain its health. Miller's Worm Powders are prompt and efficient not only for the eradication of worms, but also as a toner up for children that are run down in consequence.

The Germans have built a car that will run one mile on half an ounce of gas. Those Christmas cigarette lighters will come in handy yet.

All mothers can put away anxiety regarding their suffering children when they have Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator to give relief. Its effects are sure and lasting.

Stop the Cough.—Coughing is caused by irritation in the respiratory passage and is the effort to dislodge obstructions that come from inflammation of the mucous membrane. Treatment with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil will allay the inflammation and in consequence the cough will usually stop. Try it and you will be satisfied.

CHRISTIAN GROWTH

Golden Text: "But grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ."—2 Peter 3, 18a.

Lesson: John 1:40-42; Matthew 19: 15-19; John 21: 15-19; Luke 24: 40, 52; Ephesians 4:13-16; Philippians 3:9-11; 3:12-16; Colossians 1:9-11; Hebrews 6:1-3.

Devotional Reading: John 15:1-8.

Explanations and Comments

Becoming a Follower Of Jesus, John 1:40-42.—After a day in the company of Jesus (read verses 35-39), Andrew sought his brother and told him that he and John had found the Messiah, Messiah (Hebrew, and Christ (Greek), mean "The Anointed One." Hebrew kings were anointed with oil when given their office, and the Spiritual King was thought of as The Anointed. The Chosen One of God, until The Anointed, the Christ, became the name by which he was designated. Then Andrew brought Peter to Jesus.

The nearer another is to us, the greater responsibility for him. Our own brothers and sisters know us better than do those outside the family circle; they know our faults and failings, and therefore the Christ, from talking to them about our spiritual experiences. It may require courage to do this, but our Christianity is shallow if we cannot do it.

As He looked upon Andrew's brother, Jesus said, "Thou art Simon the son of John; thou shalt be called Cephas." Cephas, the Aramaic name, and Petros, Peter, the Greek name, mean "a stone," a detached piece of rock. Jesus knew Peter was too impulsive to be reliable; but he also knew that he would become the rock on which he would one day build His church (Matthew 16:18-19). "In a gallery in Europe there hung side by side Rembrandt's first picture, a simple sketch, imperfect and faulty, and his great masterpiece which all men admire. And so in the two names, Simon and Peter, we have first a rude fisherman, the man as he was before Jesus began his work on him; and, second, the man as he became after the friendship of Jesus and the teaching of Jesus and the discipline of life had wrought the transformation in him."—J. R. Miller.

Western Representatives:
HUNTER-MARTIN & CO., REGINA, SASK.

WILL MAKE BID FOR LARGE AREA IN FAR NORTH

Ottawa.—While cabinet ministers and western members of Parliament will not discuss, openly, the announcement that Premier J. G. Gardiner, of Saskatchewan, will ask a vast extension of the area of that province when he comes here to confer with the Dominion Government, there is the keenest interest in his proposition.

The reaction on the whole, is most unfavorable and no one appears ready even to consider the possibility of granting to Saskatchewan the territory immediately to the north of Manitoba.

This attitude of course is more marked among Manitoba members than others, but the general view of eastern members and ministers is that to grant Mr. Gardiner's request would precipitate a quarrel between the provinces which would have far-reaching results and might, conceivably, become an outstanding national issue.

Some members believe that no change in the present boundaries should be made until the northern areas are populated and that there should then be created new provinces to the north of the present prairie provinces. However, the majority of members agree that this ought not to be done, but that, when the time comes, the present provinces should be extended northward.

The motives behind Mr. Gardiner's demand are well appreciated here. The area to the north of Manitoba and Saskatchewan extending to the Arctic Ocean and bounded on the east by Hudson Bay and on the west by a line drawn from Coronation Gulf to the present western boundary of Saskatchewan is potentially one of the richest mineralized areas in Canada. About one-third of the famous pre-Cambrian shield lies in this northern territory, and active prospecting financed by two of the wealthiest mining corporations in Canada, is proceeding north of Chesterfield Inlet and along the Copper Mine River, running into the Arctic Sea. Within a few years tremendous mining development may take place in this northland.

May Require Aid Of British Parliament

To Smooth Out Difficulties In Connection With Manitoba Act

Ottawa.—The possible necessity of invoking the legislative machinery of the British Parliament to smooth out certain difficulties of certain lands in Manitoba, was raised by H. W. Craig, counsel for the province, at a session of the Manitoba natural resources hearing.

Mr. Craig, during the course of his argument, pointed out that the British Parliament had passed the Manitoba Act of 1870 and provision had been made whereby it could not be changed by the Dominion parliament.

It might be necessary, in order to change the present financial terms between the provinces and the Dominion, to have the British Parliament validate such change by statute, Mr. Craig declared.

Historical authorities were quoted and precedence cited by Mr. Craig in support of his contention that the Dominion's interest in the province's lands were primarily of legislative jurisdiction and did not involve political rights.

To Prevent Grain Mixing

Changes In Wheat Marketing To Be Demanded By Western Members

Ottawa.—Dramatic changes in the methods of marketing wheat are being demanded by the members from the prairie provinces and those demands will find their echo in the house this session from both Liberal and Progressive members.

When Robert Gardiner, Progressive leader, in the House the other evening demanded the resignation of the present board of grain commissioners and the establishment of a new board of five to administer the Canada Grain Act, he expressed the views of many in the prairie provinces. Yet the Liberals are asking for more.

Before the present session is far advanced there will be a demand for some means to prevent mixing at the terminal elevators, for changes in the personnel of the board of grain commissioners and for action in the direction indicated in the report of the agriculture committee last session regarding the establishment of protein content as the chief measure of the market value of wheat.

Amend Post Office Act

Bill Has Been Given First Reading In House Of Commons

Ottawa, Ont.—A bill amending the post office act was given first reading in the House of Commons. The measure concerns the ownership of newspapers. It provides that a sworn statement must be furnished to the post office semi-annually giving the names and addresses of editors, owners and stockholders and other particulars. Religious publications are not affected and the names of small stockholders may be omitted in all returns, according to a clause in the bill. It is proposed that failure to comply with these provisions may incur a penalty of denying admission of literary newspapers to the mails. A further clause provides that paid reading matter must be marked as advertisements. Neglect to comply with this provision under the bill would incur a fine of not less than fifty dollars and not more than five hundred dollars on conviction. The measure was introduced by T. L. Church, Conservative, Toronto north-west.

Thanksgiving Day and Armistice Day To Be Celebrated As Two Distinct Features

Ottawa.—Thanksgiving Day and Armistice Day will continue to be celebrated in Canada as two distinct features of national life, the one in acknowledgement for the bounties of Providence, and the other in homage to the memory of Canada's sons and daughters who gave their lives in the great war. This was affirmed when the House of Commons rejected a resolution introduced by F. W. Gershaw (Liberal-Progressive, Medicine Hat), the purpose of which was to combine both Thanksgiving and Armistice Days into one holiday, on November 11, annually.

Dispute Was Settled

Canadian Workers Re-Instated In Old Positions In Toronto

Ottawa.—In the House of Commons H. B. Ashdew, Labor, East Calgary, asked the Minister of Labor whether he had any information to give the members with reference to German immigrants brought into this country to replace Canadian workers in Toronto.

Hon. Peter Heenan replied that he was now able to inform the House that a settlement had been reached whereby the Canadian workmen were re-instated in their old positions at the same wages which they received prior to the dispute.

Rapid Comeback For Britain Predicted

Sir Alfred Cope Sees End Of Period Of Depression

Montreal.—That Great Britain was rapidly coming to the end of the period of depression and that she would come back to the foremost position she once held was predicted by Sir Alfred Cope, under-secretary of state for Ireland from 1919 to 1922.

He is at present managing director of the Amalgamated Collieries of South Wales and is here in the interest of marketing Welsh coal in Canada. He said the coal industry had introduced economies long overdue.

Consider Tunnel Idea Nothing But Gamble

Should Not Be Started Without Investigation, Is Opinion Of Expert Engineer

London, Eng.—The project for the construction of a tunnel under the English Channel is a gamble.

This is the considered opinion of John Dalrymple-Hays, one of the world's authorities on tunnel engineering, who, in an interview with International News Service, declared the construction of the tunnel should not be decided upon in the first flush of enthusiasm.

Dalrymple-Hays' word must be received with deference. He is an engineer with unrivalled experience in this sort of work. He acts as consulting engineer for the company controlling London's subways, and has had the design and supervision of 506 miles of underground tunnels in London.

The channel tunnel project is a gamble purely and simply because there is no authority who can say with certainty what may be the thickness of the strata in the middle of the English Channel.

"Against the whole thing is a gamble because it is being done blindfold. As a practical engineer, I say that there is not a particle of real evidence to show the thickness of the strata under the sea. Geologists say they have taken for miles and samples from the sea bed, but to an engineer that is just moonshine. They know nothing of the depth of the chalk."

Trapped In Burning Cabin

Neighbor Unable To Effect Rescue Of Three Prospectors

Stouffville, Ont.—Trapped by flames in their "cabin," three prospectors lost their lives at the narrow Woman Lake Portage, according to word reaching here. With them perished their four dogs which were chained to the outside of the building.

The three victims were Tony Tyrell, and men named Gougan and Viogt.

No word is yet available as to where the three came from. Terrible furies of the dogs roused E. F. Dyer, sleeping in a shack some distance. He rushed outside to see the cabin in flames but found it impossible to effect a rescue. He could not even get near enough to release the four living dogs.

Word of the tragedy was brought out by aeroplane.

Stricter Penalty For Violating Drug Act

Amendments Under Consideration To Curb Traffic In Narcotics

Ottawa.—The House of Commons considered in committee of the whole a bill to amend and consolidate the opium and narcotic drug act. The measure provides increased penalties in cases of conviction for selling, giving away, or distributing drugs without a license from the minister of national health. Under the clause inserted a judge may at his discretion, sentence a convicted person to be whipped, in addition to the imposition of fine and imprisonment. A further change provides that persons guilty of infractions of the act shall be liable to payment of costs of prosecution. Other amendments are incorporated, a number of which are for purposes of clarity.

Large Butter Consumers

Canadians Use More Butter Than Any Other Nation

Vancouver, B.C.—Canadians are the largest consumers of butter in the world, declared Dr. J. D. Rudick, Dominion Dairy Commissioner, in addressing the Western Canada Dairy Convention here on "Dairy Progress in 1928." Their annual per capita consumption, he put down at 27 pounds to which must be added 2½ pounds of cheese. Increased home consumption, according to Dr. Rudick, had led to a large drop in butter exports and in this connection he referred to the huge consumption of dairy products by the automobile tourists who annually invade Canada, this trade alone now accounting for between 12,000,000 and 15,000,000 pounds of butter every year.

INTENSE COLD IN EUROPE CAUSES GREAT SUFFERING

London, Eng.—The almost unprecedented siege of cold weather has taken a great toll of life in Europe in the last week, and despatches from almost every country between the North Sea and the Bosphorus brought reports of most critical situations.

Deaths due directly and indirectly to the cold weather have gone well over 10,000 since Monday, and there appeared to be no weakening of the grasp of the most severe winter in the memory of living men.

At Landau, the French sentry of duty with the army of occupation in Germany, was frozen to death in Germany, was frozen to death. Forty other sentries collapsed due to cold and as many as possible were withdrawn from duty. The temperature was 11 below zero at Wiesbaden.

Advices received by Central Radio at Vienna said 10,000 persons had assembled at one point in Budapest to receive coal rations from the Hungarian government.

Several deaths due to cold were reported from Budapest, including a night watchman and his wife, who were frozen. The Hungarian capital was paralyzed by snow, which halted virtually all traffic, the United Press correspondent reported.

England was swept by severe snowstorms and communications were disrupted. The influenza epidemic, combined with cold and cold weather accidents, has caused most of the deaths which have reached a total of well more than 10,000 during the winter, according to reliable statistics from 11 capitals.

The statistics include:

France—2,500 deaths due to influenza and similar diseases.

England and Wales—2,100 deaths due to influenza, cold, shipwrecks.

Spain—1,500 deaths due to shipwrecks, influenza and cold.

Germany—1,400 deaths due to influenza and similar diseases.

Czechoslovakia—Influenza epidemic increased death rate in last two months by 55 per cent. in rural areas.

Italy—Scores of deaths attributed to cold, and estimated increase of four per cent. in death rate.

Holland—200 deaths from influenza and shipwrecks.

Austria—150 deaths in Austria due to cold and influenza.

Hand stripped to the waist. Connie's eyes rested on the mighty frame of this huge blond; the bunched and rippling muscles, the great chest covered with a mat of thick hair, and the enormous limbs. Her glance then turned and roved to the man who was to fight for her honor. Donald's eyes were like burning coals. His face had regained its color, but was contorted with a passion that made him seem unnatural. Yet he appeared a mere stripling in comparison to his burly antagonist.

For a moment Connie became a primitive woman. She felt as though she could rend and tear. Her eyes darted blue lightnings of wrath toward the man who had insulted her, and her small hands clenched in impotent fury. Her nails cut into her palms as she exclaimed every ounce of self-control to keep from screaming aloud. Donald was fighting for her. She caught her breath in a quick start. Her heart was beating with alternate throbs of joy and fear. A sudden fit of trembling seized her, and her head felt light and giddy.

Hand's reputation as a rough and tumble fighter was well known throughout the province. It was his proud boast that he never had been whipped. He advanced now, a sinister leer on his face. Andy ran to Donald's side.

"Box 'im, Donnie," he whispered. "Don't let 'im get 'old on you."

"You goin' to vip me? De dude goin' to vip me?" Andy scoffed. Hand, in guttural accents.

He came slowly forward with arms spread wide, his thick fingers working convulsively. Donald leaned slightly forward and waited. As he heard him, Hand tore into a sure of himself in the rough and tumble. Donald side-stepped the big man's first rush and shot his left to his face. He was not properly set for the blow, but it stung Hand to madness.

"Achi!" he growled, "stand and fight you d—!"

He came on, his arms swinging wildly. Leaping aside, Donald's heel struck a stump, and before he could regain his footing the giant's arms were around him in a bone-crushing grasp. His hands were clasped at Donald's waist, and the big head was pressed suffocatingly against his throat. Donald was forced slowly backward to strike the ground with a thud, the big man on top.

"Now I got you!" panted Hand as he released his hold on Donald's waist and aimed a blow at his face. With a quick movement the under man turned face down. Hand struck him viciously as he lay prostrate under him.

Connie's eyes were wide with horror, and a muffled scream escaped her lips as the blow fell.

With a quick, convulsive movement of his little body Donald thrust Hand from his back and sprang to his feet. Whirling quickly as the foreigner came toward him, he sent in a volley of blows to his opponent's face. Hand staggered, but did not fall. His lips were cut and bleeding; his nose was broken; and he spat out several broken teeth. Any one of the blows landed was sufficient to send an ordinary man down for the count, but still the gargantuan giant came on.

In and out Donald flashed, his arms moving like steel pistons. Hand could not keep away from the punishing left hand of his lighter opponent. Not trained in the science of boxing have no punishing power in their left hand, but depend solely on their right. Such was the case with Hand. His style did not vary for a moment. With head lowered between his powerful shoulders, he would bore in, swinging wildly in the hope of landing a lucky punch, or striving to get a hold on his adversary. Donald's hand kept beating tattoo on his rock-like jaw, but still Hand came forward, slowly and relentlessly as a steam-roller.

Crowding Donald back to the line of tense spectators, Hand rushed him into the scattering crowd and seized him in a rib-cracking embrace. Donald broke the hold, but not before the brute had battered him over the eye. With the blow Donald's senses reeled and the blood gushed from a wide gash on his brow. A blow from the foreigner's big fist then caught him over the heart, and sent him staggering to his knees. With a curse the big man came after him. Andy shouted hysterical words of advice.

Donald came slowly to his feet and mechanically side-stepped as Hand came stumbling toward him. Donald evaded him until his head cleared, and then summoned his remaining strength into one mighty blow that landed flush on his opponent's nostril. The blood burst came to his knees with a dull grunt.

"Go after him!" yelled excited voices from the crowd.

Donald stepped forward with fist drawn back to strike the kneeling man, but his arm fell to his side and he shook his head. "Get up!" he commanded hoarsely.

Even the strikers gasped their appreciation of this honorable act. A murmur of applause came from both sides. The foreigner shook his shaggy blond head and came uncertainly to his feet and the sanguinary battle went on. Both men were tired. Hand's breath was coming in short-choking gasps from his tortured lungs, and his face was one smoky mass. Donald's left eye was closed; his lips were split, and the gash over his eye had covered his body with blood. His arms were tired from pounding the iron jaw of his adversary. The big logger's strength was waning; the pounding administered by Donald was beginning to tell. But Donald was too weak to avoid his rushes. In a clinch Hand again battered him with his head.

Blackie, his eyes blazing, leaped forward with a peavy handle in his hand. "You fight fair, d— you, or I'll brain you," he shouted. One of the strikers attempted to wrest the peavy handle from his hands. Blackie told him with a blow of his fist. It looked for one tense moment as if there would be a general melee. There came sudden mutterings from the crowd of strikers.

"Back!" John Hillier's voice rang out sharp and clear. "I'll kill the first man that interferes!" The eyes shining over the long-barreled Colt held a dangerous glint. The men who had moved to the centre backed away hurriedly.

Back and forth the combatants struggled, neither gaining any decided advantage, each trying to land a blow that would end the battle. Reeling, gasping, striking, falling to their knees from sheer weakness, the men fought on under a burning noonday sun.

No knight of old ever fought more nobly for a fair lady's honour than did Donald McLean that day by the lake-shore. His undershirt was torn to tatters, showing his white skin blotched with welts and bruises. He was losing his sense of distance. Swinging wildly with his left, his wrist struck Hand's adamant jaw and the onlookers saw his face writhe in pain as the arm fell helplessly to his side.

"It's broken 'is 'and," groaned Andy.

"Oh, stop it, Andy, please stop it!" sobbed Connie, her arms held out in entreaty.

Donald's face turned a sickly grey, and as the well-lit slightest foreigner staggered weakly toward him, he with a strength born of agony whipped his right to his opponent's sagging jaw. The big man faltered, sank slowly to his hands and knees, then stretched at full length, his face pressing the soil, quivered and lay still. No sound came from the crowd. The thing had been too stupendous for immediate shouting or applause. Donald stood with an instant swaying uncertainty, then started to stumble toward his cabin.

Blackie sprang to the top of a stump and swung his hat in the air. "Three cheers for our boss!" he yelled wildly.

A roaring cheer came from the crowd with a right good will.

"Boys, let's go back to work!" shouted Blackie. "We're with you, Blackie!" they answered.

As Gillie reached Donald's side as he tottered into the cabin and caught him in his arms as he collapsed into unconsciousness. The big man picked him up tenderly and placed him on the bed.

"Get some 'ot water and towels and telephone for Dr. Paul," commanded Andy tersely.

As Gillie fell to fill Andy's commission, Connie fell on her knees by the bedside and wept with wild and passionate violence. "Oh, Donald!

CHILDREN'S
COLDSare doubly dangerous
after Flu

Physicians advise that the chief danger in this epidemic is AFTER influenza. Then, more than ever, colds attacking a child's weakened system may lead to bronchitis, pneumonia, sinus trouble, abscess of the ear, mastoiditis, or even the dread meningitis.

Check Colds Without "Dosing"

A peculiarity of influenza is that its toxins leave the digestive system upset. Too much "dosing" further disturbs the digestion and lessens the appetite, just when the child needs nourishment more than ever. Internal medication should therefore be avoided, except on the advice of a physician.

As Vicks Vaporub is applied externally, it can be used freely at the first sign of a cold with no fear of upsetting even the most delicate stomach. Just rub it on the throat and chest at bedtime.

Vicks Acts 2 Ways at Once

- (1) Its medicated vapors, by the body-warmer, are inhaled direct to the inflamed air-passages, loosening the phlegm and easing the difficult breathing.
- (2) At the same time, Vicks acts through the skin like a poultice, "drawing out" tightness and soreness, and thus helping the vapors to break up the congestion.

Of course, Vicks 2-way action is just as effective for adults' cold-troubles as it is for those of children.

VICKS
For Colds of All the Family

Donald!" she sobbed. "You fought for me. I love you! I love you! Oh Andy!" turning her streaming eyes to the little man, "he won't die, will he? Tell me he won't die!" Her trembling fingers were smoothing Donald's dark hair, and she kissed his battered face tenderly, all the while calling his name hysterically.

With tears in his eyes and a heart full of sympathy, little Andy looked down on the recumbent form of his unconscious friend. "It's all right, Connie. 'E'll be right in a few days," he answered her in a choking voice.

Stony Plain and District.

IT PAYS TO PAY CASH.

Mr J W Edkins, the well-known farmer, left on Tuesday for Entwistle, where he will open an agency for Chevrolet cars. He will also interest himself in the insurance business.

Mr A E Michael was able to head a good sized party of those interested in the John Deere tractor school, which opened in Edmonton, Tuesday, for a two-day session. Mr Michael is an expert tractor man himself, and has taken quite an interest in this branch.

The farmer's best friend is The Family Herald and Weekly Star, Montreal. It costs only a dollar a year.

Walther League News.

Despite the cold weather on Sunday evening, yet a capacity crowd attended the opening of the English Lutheran services in Stony Plain. After the sermon, conducted by the Rev. Osterman, the W.L. Octette rendered a selection "My Church." Hereafter English services will be conducted in Stony Plain on the first and third Sunday of each month at 7.30 p.m.

A large number of English hymn books have been purchased by the local society and these have been donated to the congregation.

The regular business meeting of the society will be held Thursday, March 28, in the St Matthew School in town.

Progress is being made on the Annual Play, which is to be given shortly after the close of Lent.

At the last session, it was decided to invite the annual W. L. Convention of the Alberta and B.C. district. It was furthermore suggested to have the summer camp at Edmonton Beach.

Lutheran Synod to Meet

Alberta and B. C. members of the home mission board of the Lutheran Church (Missouri Synod) will meet in Edmonton for a two day session commencing next Monday, Feb. 25. Church extension work will be discussed, this including the erection of a new down-town building in Edmonton. The chairman will be Rev A J Mueller, president of the board.

Others who will be prominent at this session are Rev. E Eberhardt, and two other clergymen well known here—Prof W Baepier and Rev C Theis.

Finish the Job.

"How's this," asked the lawyer "You've named six bankers in your will to be pallbearers. Of course it's all right, but wouldn't you rather choose some friends with whom you are on better terms?"

"No, that's all right," replied the farmer. "Those fellows have carried me so long, they might as well finish the job!"

Inga M.D.'s Annual Meet.

A meeting of electors of the municipal district of Inga was held Saturday afternoon last in the town hall for the discussion of municipal affairs and for receiving of nominations for candidates for the offices of councillors for Divs. 1, 4, 6.

The attendance was very good, considering the condition of the roads, but may have been larger but, thru a mistake, some ratepayers had received printed notices the meeting would be held in Duffield.

It was expected this would prove to be a hellasoppin' meet, but nothing more serious happened than the lie being passed, in the heat of an argument, between two prominent officials.

After the ratepayers had been called to order by Chairman McKinlay, Mr W Best read the auditor's report. The reading passed off peaceful enough. The fireworks opened up when adverse comments were made on the various items read, such as the largeness of the weed inspector's expense bill, etc.; and when these were compared with the smallness of the amounts received for lands sold for unpaid taxes, everyone sat up and took notice. Under this heading, the query was made why the White quarter at Inga was sold in 1923 for the bare taxes owing, when the same land is reported to have been sold in the following spring for a sum around $2890. The answer was, that the 1923 sale was made following instructions received from the Councillors in meeting assembled. From then on the wordy battle waged strong.

Shortly before 1 o'clock Returning Officer Joseph Best called for nominations for Councillors, with this result—

Div. 1—M McKinlay, Christie Pitzler.
Div. 4—F J Francey, J Collingridge.
Div. 6—Councillor Goerz was re-elected.
A F Schooley was elected to the hospital board.

When the nominations closed Mr A F Duncan, of Short and Cross, solicitors for Inga M. D., made his appearance, introduced by the chairman. Upon being challenged by a ratepayer as to whom he was and the whyness of his presence there, Mr Duncan gave a charming biographical sketch of himself, from his birth at Sarnia in 1894, giving the high school and university from which he had graduated, and other more or less important events in his life's history, including his present possession of a wife and family of two: whereupon Mr D's interlocutor subsided.

Mr Duncan touched on the lawsuit in connection with the sale of the White quarter, and had the details at his finger tips. Mr D is some nifty explainer. He mentioned having had an interview with Attorney-General Lyburn in connection with this case, and stated that Mr Gray, K.C., of the latter's department, and Mr Parlee, K.C., were of the opinion that Inga municipality appeared to have a good case for an appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada.

A resolution carried, to the effect that Mr Duncan be instructed to interview Mr Lyburn, and, if his department were willing to bear the expense of Messrs. Parlee and Gray being sent to Ottawa, to back an appeal in the Supreme court there, the ratepayers of Inga would be willing to put up the $500 required to enter an appeal.

Spruce Grove News

The nominations for councillors for Spruce Grove M.D. were held on Saturday at the Grove.

In Councillor Sinclair's division Mr Sinclair resigned, and W E Rutter and R J Johnston.

Councillor E C McLaughlin was renominated in his division, and will be opposed by D Brox.

Councillor Dan Giese was renominated in his division, and will be opposed by Gustav Schuster and Ludwig Goebel.

A trail busting outfit from Stony Plain came thru here on Tuesday, and opened up the road from that town to Winterburn for autos and trucks.

$2 for Three Years

The recent announcement of the Family Herald and Weekly Star to give a year free with a two year subscription appears to us a move in the right direction. Not that the Family Herald needs to reduce its price; it is recognized that at $1 per year it is the greatest value in Canada today. The "year free" offer therefore, means this—the subscription is still one dollar for one year, but for two dollars you receive a subscription for three years instead of two years.

Hundreds will literally leap at this big offer and well they may. When one considers that for a two dollar bill you can have a paper of the calibre of the Family Herald and Weekly Star coming to your home for three full years—it goes without saying that it is a somewhat tempting offer.
